PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Aloha kākou:

This was a special year for Historic Hawai'i Foundation, thanks to the efforts of members, volunteers, partners, funders and others throughout our communities who share in the effort to protect and preserve the special places of Hawai'i.

Historic Hawai'i Foundation's mission is to protect the historic places that make our Islands special. This work is both motivating and daunting. How can we protect the places that tell the stories of those who came before us? How can we make a difference?

The answer is that we do it together. We do not forget that one person can make a difference, and that by saving and restoring historic buildings and cultural sites, entire communities can change.

You make a difference in protecting Hawai'i's unique historic places. Historic Hawai'i Foundation supports your efforts through being an advocate for historic preservation at the local, state and national levels. We provide education and information in communities on every island. We help share your stories and broaden the reach of the preservation 'ohana, welcoming new preservation partners and lifting up many different voices, experiences, histories and stories.

Throughout this annual report are summaries of the activities you helped achieve. These programs and projects reflect one of the guiding values that Historic Hawai'i Foundation embraces: Preservation is a shared responsibility and we commit to cultivate and maintain partnerships with agencies, organizations and individuals to help save Hawai'i's historic places.

Mahalo nui loa to the many individuals, organizations and companies who supported Historic Hawai'i Foundation and its programs during the year. You make heritage happen.

With aloha,

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Aloha kākou:

In 1974, Historic Hawai'i Foundation's founders committed to an idea: that people working together can preserve, protect and celebrate historic places that tell the many stories of Hawai'i.

The Board of Trustees re-confirmed the importance of people working together with the completion of an updated five-year plan to continue to help people save Hawaii's historic places. The plan outlines the goals, priorities and strategies that empower that work and allow us to adapt and adjust to changing needs and opportunities.

The 2018 annual report is the first review of the new strategies and how they are serving our communities. The strategic plan, and the annual report, are organized by five core actions: Educate, Advocate, Assist, Protect and Sustain.

The premise supporting these actions is simple: People save places they love and they love places they know. Understanding leads to caring and caring leads to active stewardship.

A critical element of this plan is long-term organizational sustainability. We aspire to preserve, promote and celebrate the historic places of the Hawaiian Islands. This is a receding goal—we can move toward it, but never arrive. So our organization must also have the strength and vitality to continue the work year after year. With this plan, Historic Hawai'i Foundation is recommitted to perpetuating Hawai'i's heritage and establishing preservation as an enduring community value.

Historic Hawai'i Foundations members and supporters make this possible. We are grateful and appreciative of all those who help save Hawai'i's historic places.

2018 YEAR IN REVIEW

Your support helped us provide a wealth of innovative talks, tours, and workshops across the state. Here is a summary of the impact you made possible:

EDUCATE

Build awareness, understanding and public support for historic preservation, and serve as spokesperson for the cause.

Identity and Place: Asian American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander Heritage in the Hawaiian Islands

COMMUNITY FORUM

On January 26-27, Historic Hawai'i Foundation partnered with the National Park Service, University of Hawai'i at West O'ahu, the East West Center and other organizations to present a public forum to stimulate discussion about how to address the under-told stories of Asian American, Native Hawaiian and Pacific Islander people and places.

The Forum was inspired by the National Park Service's national historic landmarks theme study, "Finding a Path Forward." The Forum addressed historical themes of AANHPI experiences with the goal to identify related historic and cultural sites that represent these histories for potential inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places and, when appropriate, designation as National Historic Landmarks.

The project included educational sessions, multimedia platforms, keynote speakers, and student-produced video shorts that were shared with the public on the evening prior to the Forum.

YOUTH VIDEO PROJECT AND STUDENT ART PROJECTS

A collaboration with University of Hawai'i-West O'ahu Academy for Creative Media and the Wai'anae High School Searider Productions included integrating the themes from the AANHPI Forum into a class assignment for film production.

The student filmmakers introduced the videos, screened them and participated in a student panel sharing their experiences selecting and developing the content as well as fulfilling the technical aspects of creating a digital story.

The AANHPI Forum included students from Pacific Buddhist Academy presentations of poetry, photography and written/painted art pieces.

PERPETUATING OUR HERITAGE: With the support of our members, we are able to offer a diversity of educational programs and engage various audiences.

Hawai‘i’s Submerged Cultural Heritage

Dr. Hans K. Van Tilburg, Maritime Heritage Coordinator of NOAA Office of National Marine Sanctuaries, gave two public presentations about underwater cultural resources based on findings from a three-year landmark study, “The Unseen Landscape: Inventory and Assessment of Submerged Cultural Resources in Hawai‘i.” The talk on March 13 was a collaboration with Waikiki Aquarium as part of its Classroom Seminar Series. A second presentation titled, “Shipwrecks: Stories of Hawai‘i’s Maritime Past” was held on July 12 with an audience of 87 people.

Sweetland Farm Goat Creamery & Preservation Tour

On April 7, HHF partnered with Sweet Land Farm to host a specially-designed tour of six historic homes from the former Red Hill Navy housing neighborhood that had been slated to be demolished and were instead saved, relocated and repurposed for employee housing and accessory farm uses to Sweet Land Farm, Oahu’s only certified goat dairy. The tour combined history and architectural history of the housing and a full tour of the dairy operations.

RESPECT: We foster cultural diversity and pluralistic values and treat all people with dignity and respect. We deal fairly with all participants in our activities, programs and engagements.

LIGHTING THE TORCH: By involving younger members of our communities in our programs, we are cultivating a preservation ethic for the future.

Greening Measures for Heritage Homes

HHF created a new educational series for historic homeowners and design professionals who want to integrate environmental sustainability with historic preservation. The series of five classes was over ten weeks from April 9 to June 4. Video recordings of each class were made available to the public via HHF's YouTube channel.

The course topics were:

- What makes your historic home unique & sustainable measures to green it: Kiersten Faulkner, Executive Director, Historic Hawai'i Foundation; Andrea Nandoskar, Education Program Manager, Historic Hawai'i Foundation; Pat and Eddie Chun, historic homeowners

Tour of Maunawila Heiau

On June 16, HHF staff, volunteers and their family members and friends gathered in Hau'ula for a tour of Maunawila Heiau owned and preserved by Hawaiian Islands Land Trust. The tour was a fun way to personally thank and engage with the people who helped execute HHF's meetings and events throughout the year. The heiau, one of the relatively intact heiau in the Ko'olaupoko moku, is a recognized wahi pana for Native Hawaiian cultural historians and practitioners.

Discover Kaimuki Town: Architecture & History Walking Tour & Talk Story

A special tour on July 21 brought together history, architecture, youth, art, local lore, business and food. Sixty event guests were led by an entourage of volunteers, including students from nearby schools, for a walking tour event that showcased the unique history and architecture of a thriving historic neighborhood.

Members of Kaimuki's vibrant business community, many of whom are members of an active network known as "Keep It Kaimuki", offered special coupons to attendees with other businesses donating portions of sale proceeds on certain items on tour day. Nick Kuchar, a locally-based artist, created a print in honor of the town and tour, and local chef Ed Kenney, owner of three eateries in the neighborhood, shared stories of nostalgia and connection about growing up in the area, and why he chose older buildings for his businesses.

Historic Preservation Essentials

The series of eight seminars was presented in cooperation with the National Park Service and held from August 6 - August 16. This year the intent was to offer the seminars in smaller towns and rural areas: Princeville and Hanapēpē on Kaua'i, Lahaina and Hāna on Maui, Kawaihae and Honoka'a on Hawai'i Island, Lāna'i, and Hale'iwa on O'ahu.

The half-day seminars covered preservation tools, with a focus on opportunities and rights for public participation in historic preservation regulatory processes, as well as information on non-regulatory and other means for effective methods to preserve and perpetuate historic properties and cultural sites.

Attendees included members of Native Hawaiian Organizations, grassroots preservation organizations; local preservation commissions; county staff and officials who work with preservation issues; professionals working in planning, development, architecture and preservation; property owners; students from the Hāna High School and other business and community leaders.

Lei of Parks Family Day

Historic Hawai'i joined with HHF Planners and The Outdoor Circle on September 1 at the Trust for Public Land's Lei of Parks Family Day. The preservation groups co-sponsored a booth and led two historic sites walking tours highlighting Ala Moana Regional Park's historical, architectural, and landscape features.

Historic Greystones Estate Open House

Eighty HHF members and guests attended a holiday open house on December 1. Greystones, named for the remarkable exterior walls made of bluestone, is on the Hawai'i State Register of Historic Places and was commissioned by Alfred Hocking, the founder of Honolulu Brewing and

COLLABORATION:

Preservation is a shared responsibility. By cultivating partnerships throughout the community, we strengthen our capacity and public engagement.

ADVOCATE

Support public policies, legislative and regulatory frameworks that provide incentives and regulations for preservation outcomes.

State Capitol Time Capsule Retrieval by State Senator Brian Taniguchi and State Archivist Adam Jansen in December

State Legislature

HHF participated in public policy and legislative advocacy with the State Legislature, including monitoring, reviewing and offering testimony on bills and proposals related to penalties for destruction of historic sites and cultural resources, improving the review and compliance actions related to environmental assessments and historic preservation permit reviews and establishing a state income tax credit for historic property rehabilitation.

HHF Executive Director Kiersten Faulkner was appointed to the State Legislature's Task Force Commemorating the 50th Anniversary of the Hawai'i State Capitol. In preparation for the 50th anniversary, a time capsule interred in 1969 was removed from the wall of the Capitol and the artifacts prepared for display. The planned anniversary events occurred in 2019.

State Policy and Rule-Making

Our policy team engaged in review and comment on proposed changes to State rules and regulations related to the Hawai'i Environmental Policy Act (HRS 343) and the Historic Preservation Program (HRS 6E).

City & County Ordinances

Public policy advocacy with the City and County of Honolulu included working with the Department of Planning and Permitting, the North Shore Chamber of Commerce and City Council on amendments to update the Hale'iwa Special Design District. HHF also submitted testimony opposing proposals to demolish the historic Kenrock Buildings and to alter the historic streetscape in the Chinatown Historic District.

Grassroots Organizing

HHF worked with community and neighborhood groups in the Mānoa, Kaimuki and Hale'iwa areas on O'ahu to outline general planning frameworks that could assist with long-range plans that include preserving the special historic features and characteristics of those districts.

ASSIST

Provide technical assistance, information services, education and field services for applied preservation methods

Preservation Easements

HHF added another historic property to the portfolio of significant buildings protected in perpetuity by a preservation easement. HHF accepted an easement on the Dearborn Building in Kaka'ako (O'ahu) to ensure that the 1929 warehouse will be rehabilitated in accordance with preservation standards and that future changes will never demolish or inappropriately alter the historic character. The Dearborn Building joined HHF's previously accepted easements for the Jean & Zohmah Charlot House in Kāhala (O'ahu) and the Fred C. Baldwin Memorial home in Makawao (Maui). HHF continues to monitor and work with the property owners to ensure compliance with the stipulations in the agreements and appropriate treatment of the historic sites.

SUSTAIN

Provide a financially stable, resilient and well-governed organization for long-term viability.

Five-Year Plan Provides Strategic Focus and Priorities

The Board of Trustees adopted a new five-year plan to establish the vision, strategic focus areas and priorities to help people save Hawai'i's historic places. The plan focuses on five core actions: Educate, Advocate, Assist, Protect and Sustain.

The development of the new strategic plan involved a careful review of Historic Hawaii's mission, current programs and resources, the scope of the challenges facing historic places, and the opportunities for honoring the past while shaping the future. The planning process included feedback from HHF members and the preservation community via an online survey, five focus group meetings on four islands, topic-specific work sessions on both programs and operational issues, and several board retreats.

44th Annual Meeting & Elections

Historic Hawai'i Foundation held its Annual Membership Meeting on June 20 at The Novelty Foundry, a metal casting shop built in 1930, and presently owned by HHF Members Bob and Teri Bosley. Members elected new trustees Rick Kiefer, Wendy Rice Peterson, Greg Pietsch and Vernon Wong and re-elected Ricky Ching, Joy Davidson, Donne Dawson, J. Scott Meidell, and Jennifer Zelko-Schlueter. Natalia Lagmay was elected President.

2018 Kama'āina of the Year Benefit

On October 27, HHF recognized MATSON as the 2018 Kama'āina of the Year™ at an award presentation at the Royal Hawaiian, a Luxury Collection Resort, in Waikiki.

Matson was honored for its 136 years of providing service to the Hawaiian Islands, and its role in establishing some of the most beloved historic buildings in Honolulu, including the Moana Surfrider and Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

CREDIBILITY: Understanding that our credibility is our greatest asset, we operate with integrity, courage and transparency, building on an organizational history of significance.

The art piece represents the Native Hawaiian means of carrying treasured items, symbolizing shipping in a Hawaiian cultural context.

About 560 guests attended and enjoyed welcome mai tai cocktails, special exhibits from Matson’s archives, and opportunities to have their photos taken at a Matson gangway and Boat Days-themed lei stand. Enchanting dancers from IONA Dance Company, provided by the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, added a wow factor as soon as guests entered the lobby. Guests were invited to ring a captain’s bell from the S.S. Maui. The delightful trio, Puamana, performed during cocktail hour and Jeff Peterson and Nathan Aweau provided an amazing show following the award tribute.

Steve Uyehara, co-anchor of Hawai‘i News Now Sunrise, served as Master of Ceremonies and Marques Marzan presented a special oli dedicated to the honoree.

Historic Hawai‘i Foundation expresses appreciation to the sponsors, donors, guests, volunteers, committee members, hotel staff and everyone who contributed towards making the evening a memorable commemoration of Matson and its legacy in Hawai‘i.
